

CZAR OF RUSSIA FEARS DEATH BY TERRORISTS

DEATH AFTER A DEBAUCH

Young Man Is Found Dead in an Old Stable.

After a debauch of several days with his fellow workmen, Stephen Emerson crawled into an unoccupied stable at Second street and Broadway last night, after all his money was gone, and lay down to die alone. His body was found on the straw this morning by Edward Farmer, who is employed at a livery stable at 664 Broadway.

Coroner Mehrmann was notified and he directed that the body be removed to the morgue, where it was later identified as Steve Emerson by Harry Foy and James Griffin, who had worked with Emerson in San Francisco.

Emerson was afflicted with asthma, according to his friends, and it is supposed that death was due to that disease, aggravated by exposure. There were no marks of violence on the body sufficient to have caused death, according to the coroner, although there was a slight abrasion over the left eye and a discoloration of the eyelids, which Coroner Mehrmann believes was received either in a fight or by falling. In fact, his eye was discolored when he was last seen about 5 o'clock last night at Seventh street and Broadway.

Emerson was 37 years old and was formerly a resident of Denver, Colorado, where one of his brothers, who is a wealthy miner, resides. His parents are dead. For the last three years he has been working as a laborer in California and until recently was employed in the Mariposa street tunnels of the Southern Pacific in San Francisco. He left the Southern Pacific intending to go to Niles to procure more work, but when he reached Oakland he began drinking and when his money was spent he died penniless and alone. Coroner Mehrmann will hold an inquest.

ELKINS WILL FILE A MAJORITY REPORT

WASHINGTON, June 29.—When the railroad rate bill was reported from the senate committee on interstate commerce yesterday, Senator Elkins gave notice that he should file a majority report stating the reasons of five members of the committee in not concurring in the report of the majority. He has been given leave to perfect his report before having it printed and during the recess of congress it will be brought out. It will consist of a compilation of all the testimony taken by the committee and other data gathered, together with carefully prepared comments. It will be signed by Senators Elkins, Foraker, Kean, Crane and Aldrich.

DEADLOCK REACHED ON THE MEAT BILL

WASHINGTON, June 29.—When the conference on the agricultural bill met today the house announced that under instructions voted by the house they would be compelled to insist upon the house provision in regard to meat inspection without compromise of any kind. The senate conferees stood out for the compromise proposition offered by Senator Proctor to divide the expense of inspection between the packers and the government, by retaining the $3,000,000 appropriation, but taxing cattle five cents and sheep and swine three cents. The conference broke up at 11:15 o'clock.

Senator Proctor announced that he

HARRY THAW SAYS HE IS NOT GUILTY

Defense Will Be Emotional Insanity --White's Life to Be Shown Up by Authorities.

NEW YORK, June 29.—Harry K. Thaw entered a formal plea of not guilty when arraigned on a charge of murder in the court of general sessions today. The plea was entered with a reservation that it may be withdrawn Tuesday next.

PRISON DISCIPLINE.

Thaw has had several unpleasant experiences with prison discipline since his confinement in the Tombs, but his keepers say that on each occasion he has met them gracefully. He had considerable difficulty in getting to sleep last night because of the intense heat in his cell and about midnight called a keeper and asked permission to walk in the corridors. "I'm used to night air, you know, and this is pretty hard on me," said the prisoner in making the request.

"I'm sorry, but the regulations forbid prisoners leaving their cells during the night," replied the keeper.

"Then I guess I don't walk," commented Thaw, as he returned to his cot.

HE WAS HUNGRY.

An hour later he told the keeper he was hungry and asked for a lunch, but again the regulations were called to his attention. "Then I don't eat, either," said the prisoner with a smile, and a few minutes later he was sound asleep. He was up early this morning and by the time the gong sounded at 7 o'clock was ready for the morning exercises in the corridor.

NOT ENOUGH EXERCISE.

Talking to one of the keepers about the exercise he got in prison, he said it was hardly enough for him, as he had been in the habit of swinging Indian clubs every morning when he first got up. He asked if it would not be possible for arrangements to be made for him to have either a pair of clubs or dumbbells brought to him, so that he could get more exercise.

NO WEAPONS.

"Not on this tier," was the keeper's diplomatic way of informing Thaw that prisoners charged with murder are not allowed to have weapons of any kind or anything else with which they might possibly do themselves or others an injury.

TALKS FREELY.

While waiting for the opening of court Thaw sat near an open window in the Bridge of Sighs which connects the prison with the criminal court building. He talked freely with newspaper men and others during his brief stay, but declined to say anything whatever concerning his case. He appeared to be in good physical condition and said that he slept fairly well last night.

"How do you find the beds?" Thaw was asked.

"Well," he replied, "they are not just what I've been used to, but I guess I'll get accustomed to them."

CASE CALLED.

Thaw was taken into Justice Cowling's court, where he was to plead to the murder charge, behind three other persons, one of whom was a negro, charged with larceny. His appearance was very little different from that of yesterday except that he was slightly paler. He stood with his back to an open window at the north end of the court room and chatted to a court officer while the other prisoners were being arraigned. When his case was called Thaw stepped briskly to the barrier inside of which his counsel, ex-Judge Olcott and W. J. McManus, were sitting at a table with Assistant District Attorneys Garvin and Nott.

PLEADS NOT GUILTY.

When Court Clerk Tenney read the charge of murder in the first degree for the killing of Stanford White, he asked Thaw what he had to say in relation to the indictment and the prisoner answered distinctly "not guilty."

His counsel immediately interposed an amendment to the plea, asking of the court leave to withdraw the plea any time up to next Tuesday. This was granted, and a moment later the prisoner was away from the bar and re-entered the prison.

THAW WAS COOL.

Thaw was remarkably cool and collected during his visit to the court room and prior to that ordeal, when he sat for a time in the Bridge of Sighs. He was under the watchful eyes of several policemen and prison keepers, but apparently he was not aware of their continuous scrutiny of his every movement. His face was pallid, but his eyes were bright and every glance he took at the passing to and fro of the prisoners showed that he was keenly alert and more than interested in the surroundings. The only carelessness in the prisoner's make-up that was noticeable was the fact that his hair was ruffled as if it had not been combed for over a week.

WHITE IN DEBT.

According to the Globe today, investigation has brought to light the fact that Stanford White, who was supposed to be wealthy, had been living beyond his income and was heavily in debt, owing $300,000 to one young member of a prominent family and as much to other persons. In addition to this, the Globe says White had drawn so heavily from the architectural firm of which he was a member that he had been notified that he could draw no more but would be allotted a weekly sum which was not to be exceeded.

EMOTIONAL INSANITY.

NEW YORK, June 29.—An announcement that the defense will make "emotional insanity" the basis for the fight for the release of Harry K. Thaw in jail, indicted for the murder of Stanford White, set at rest the speculation on this point today. Justifiable homicide and the straight plea of insanity had been suggested as a line of defense, but Thaw himself made the

EMPEROR IS GUARDED ON EVERY SIDE

He is commander of the Palace and is personally charged with protecting the safety of the Emperor's person.

TREPOFF AT WORK

His Majesty Crushed Because Favorite Soldiers Mutiny.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 29.—The crushing blow inflicted on the emperor by the discovery of disaffection in his favorite regiment, the Preobrajensky regiment of Life Guards, as shown by its adoption of resolutions recently upholding all the actions of parliament and announcing that the men wanted no more police duty entailing the slaying of brothers and fathers, has so affected his majesty that he has ordered the name of the disloyal first battalion to be stricken from the roll of the Imperial Guards.

In addition, the soldiers and officers of the battalion have been deprived forever of the special rights enjoyed by guardsmen, and hereafter the battalion will be designated the "Special Infantry Battalion."

FEAR MUTINY.

The general staff no longer conceals its fear that the morale of the entire army is shaken and that with parliament championing the cause of mutineers in each instance as it arises the first big test may find the troops lined up, as the French troops two days before the Battle of Sedan, on the side of the people and against monarchy.

The Globe today says that the troubles in the army have routed the reactionary court Camarilla and have precipitated a definite decision not only not to dissolve parliament, but to dismiss the Goremykin cabinet, and that in the meantime the emperor has directed the ministers to reply to all interpellations in parliament.

WITTE'S TELEGRAMS.

Count Witte, from his self-imposed exile abroad, has despatched several urgent telegrams here emphasizing the necessity of putting a stop to the anti-Jewish outbreaks, the impression of which seriously affected Russia's credit abroad.

AN OFFICIAL DENIAL.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 29.—An official denial is given of the report that the Emperor and court intend leaving Peterhof and returning to a Tsarskoe-Selo, owing to the discovery of a revolutionary plot among the

RIOTING GOES ON

Parents Still Fear That Children's Throats Will Be Cut.

NEW YORK, June 29.—Rioting similar to that which occurred on Wednesday about the public schools of the lower East Side spread yesterday to the Italian section of the city adjoining the scene of Wednesday's disturbances. Three schools with several thousand pupils were affected by today's disturbances, and the sessions were abruptly ended. The janitor of one of the schools was roughly handled by the crowd. At the schools where rioting occurred Wednesday few pupils were reported yesterday, and the schools remained closed for the day.

Similar riots broke out yesterday in the Brownsville section of Brooklyn, where parents of pupils charged on the schools in rage and fear, and it required large details of police to confine the disturbances to the outside of the buildings. The trouble was so pronounced at two of the schools that the teachers dismissed the pupils for the day. The trouble is the outgrowth of wild rumors that the children were having their throats cut by the teachers.

OFFICERS ANGRY.

The former's retirement is stated to be due purely to private considerations, but several officers of his staff are indignant at the promotion of Colonel Lermontoff over their heads and have asked to be relieved. This gave rise to the report of the discovery of a revolutionary plot. While the official explanations are regarded with suspicion, and it is beyond question that the terrorists and revolutionists are constantly attempting to gain foothold in the palace, there is no cause to doubt the truth of the official statement that the court has no intention of returning to Tsarskoe-Selo this summer.

PETERHOF IS SAFE.

Peterhof in reality is much safer for the imperial family than Tsarskoe-Selo, being located on a gulf, enabling the imperial yacht to be moored at a wharf 300 yards from the palace, and

DEATH IN THE HEAT

Scorching Day in Chicago and Victims Are Many.

CHICAGO, June 29.—Death and prostration followed the burning rays of the sun in Chicago yesterday. It was the hottest day of the year, the thermometer registering 93 degrees in the United States observatory, and touching 98 in the street. No lake breeze tempered the scorching heat, and the intense humidity added to the torture of the thousands who were forced to work in the crowded downtown and factory districts during the hours when the mercury was at its highest.

Four persons were fatally stricken and fourteen others were hurried to hospitals or their homes in the hope of saving their lives.

KILLED HIS WIFE

Shot Boarder in the House and Then Suicided.

MANNINGTON, W. Va., June 29.—Returning today to town, James L. Coad, an oil dealer, shot and instantly killed his wife as she lay in bed. He was dangerously wounded Samuel Williams, a boarder, whom he found asleep on a lounge. Coad then committed suicide.

(Williams will recover.)

Coad, it is said, deserted his wife last January. In April she was granted a divorce, and then opened a boarding house.

NEW YORK, June 29.—The

CHILD IS STOLEN AT DOVER

Little One Seized Before Mother's Eyes and Carried Away.

NEW YORK, June 29.—A special to the World from Dover, Del., tells of the abduction of Annie Haas yesterday by two men in an automobile. They seized the girl almost before her mother's eyes, gagged her with a handkerchief and whizzed away with her at the rate of sixty miles an hour. The story continues:

LOVE THE CHILD.

"Haas acknowledges that Annie, who is ten years old in his adopted daughter. But he insists he and his wife have had her in their care for seven and a half years and love her as if she was their own. Haas is certain that the kidnapers in the automobile are agents, perhaps relatives, of Annie's natural mother.

"The abduction was cunningly planned. Haas was away from his newly purchased home at Willow Grove, twelve miles from this city. The two men in the automobile dashed by the Haas farmhouse before whose door they saw Annie and her younger sister, Haas' own child. The men returned in a few moments and stopped before the house, pretending to make repairs to the machine.

ANNIE SEIZED.

"The children ran up to the machine and the instant Annie was close enough, the men seized her, thrust a handkerchief in her mouth, hustled her into the automobile and were away. The younger girl's tearful shrieks brought her mother from the house, but long before she or the neighbors could give the alarm the automobile had vanished in a cloud of dust."

HARRIMAN'S SERVANT.

NEW YORK, June 29.—Annie Haas is temporarily the ward of the court of chancery of Jersey City. The child was the daughter of Annie Hesselman, formerly a servant for E. H. Harriman. Miss Hesselman gave the infant in charge of a friend, Mrs. Hoffman, whose home was in Brooklyn. For two and a half years she paid the infant's board, and then, unable longer to stand the financial burdens advertised her little one for adoption. Mrs. Haas answered the advertisement. Mrs. Hoffman permitted her to take the child. For seven years Annie Hesselman kept up the search for her daughter.

LOCATED HER DAUGHTER.

Last February, through an advertisement, Miss Hesselman located her daughter in the Haas family who then lived in Jersey City. Mr. and Mrs. Haas refused to give up the child. The mother brought suit for her child's custody in the New Jersey court of chancery, and won it. Soon afterward the Haas family moved to Delaware.

PROCEEDS AGAINST ST. LOUIS COMPANY

ST. LOUIS, June 29.—Circuit Attorney Sager, acting for the state of Missouri, instituted quo warrant proceedings in the circuit court against the Cello Commission Company of St. Louis to oust that company and all its franchisees from the state of Missouri and asking that its property be forfeited to the state. The petition alleges that the company has violated the laws of the state and has served and obtained its contracts un-

MESSANGER FOR KANSAS

Committee Gives Him One That He May Be on Level With Associates.

WASHINGTON, June 29.—When the senate met today Senator Kean, from the committee on contingent expenses reported favorably a resolution authorizing the committee on documents to employ a messenger at $1440 per annum.

"How old is the committee?" said Senator Culberson.

"It was created for the benefit of the Senator from Kansas (Mr. Benson)" replied Mr. Kean.

"What is the necessity for it?"

"The purpose was to place the Kansas senator on a level with other majority senators, all of which have messengers," replied Mr. Kean.

The resolution was adopted.

DRUNKENNESS AND CRUELTY

San Francisco Woman Accused of Most Brutal Conduct.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 29.—Mrs. Adeline Gallagher, wife of Attorney Walter D. Gallagher, appeared before Judge Shortall this morning on a charge of cruelty to her two year old daughter and also on a charge of drunkenness. It is alleged that the child was fearfully beaten and had to be taken to the City and County Hospital for treatment. Two deep scalp wounds were on its small head. These were deeply clothed with blood.

"This is one of the most disgraceful cases that has come to my notice," said Judge Shortall, when the woman came up for arraignment. "I will arrange it so that you will not have control of that little one again. It is the order of this court that the child be kept in the hospital until the disposition of this case and that the mother be not allowed to see it or communicate with it."

"Madam, were your husband not an attorney and officer of this court, I would not allow you your freedom pending trial. I think it is a courtesy due him to allow you to go on your own recognizance. You say you were not drunk and that you did not beat the child. The police officers who arrested you state that you did both, disgracing the name of wife and disgracing the name of mother."

The case, at the request of Attorney F. J. D. was continued until next Tuesday when the woman's shattered nerves will be normal. The woman attempted to create a scene when her baby was taken from her, but her attorney was able to control her.

PAIN DRIVES TO SUICIDE

Laborer, Suffering From Cut in Head, Takes Concentrated Lye.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 29.—Joseph Maroni, a laborer residing near Twelfth and Market streets was found withering yesterday in a vacant lot near his home, suffering from the effects of concentrated lye taken with suicidal intent. He was removed to the City and County hospital, where he died several hours later in great agony.

The deceased had been treated for a lacerated scalp a few days ago and it is assumed that the pain from the wound drove him temporarily insane, causing him to take his life in a horrible manner.

It has been found that several saloons are owned by a brewing company now in a receiver's hands, and it is contended that these joints cannot be molested, as they are normally under the protection of the federal court.

GREAT PORTRAIT PAINTER IS RESIDING IN OAKLAND

Walter Cox, of San Francisco, the portrait and landscape artist, has opened a studio on this side of the bay. This picture is made from photograph taken of portrait of the artist, which was painted by Mr. Cox himself, from reflection in mirror, a most difficult and unusual piece of work.

Walter Cox, While Lamenting Loss of Studio and Gems of Art by Fire, Begins Life Anew.

The artistic world of San Francisco, relatively speaking, feels more the pain of loss occasioned by the great fire than does that of any other line of business or profession in the destroyed metropolis.

A palace razed to the ground may be reconstructed within a few months. An immense emporium with its contents may be utterly effaced, but a thousand hands and machines without number, within a comparatively short time, can rebuild the one more beautifully and restock the other as it had never been stocked before.

HOW ART IS AFFECTED.

Such, however, is not a possibility in the world of art. The studios of San Francisco which were destroyed—and they were all laid in common ruin—represented the work of years not alone of the owners, but also of kindred souls possessed of genius and the restoration of them and their contents can be accomplished only by hand. With the destruction of the studios of that city, however, art and artistic temperament did not die. Both still live and artists are to be found almost as numerous as ever in hastily improvised studios and in private homes and apartment houses especially in this city and Berkeley. In this respect, what has been San Francisco's loss has been Oakland and Berkeley's gain.

ARTISTS HERE.

On this side of the bay may today be found many of the leading men of the brush, palette and easel who, for years, have had an established and remunerative clientele on the other side of the bay. Among these and among the cleverest in portrait and genre work is Walter Cox who is temporarily domiciled in El Granada at the corner of Bancroft way and Telegraph avenue, Berkeley. There, Mr. Cox and his wife have a cosy apartment with a studio adjacent, a fact which will be greatly appreciated by old patrons as also by the new ones whom Mr. Cox is sure to attract.

ALREADY AT WORK.

Although the ashes have not yet been removed from the ruins of his San Francisco studio, 1335 Sacramento street, near the corner of Van Ness avenue and Franklin street, he is already at work on canvases. His old patrons have found him out. They were, in the main, people of liberal means as well as patrons of the liberal arts and have already given orders for portraits and landscapes such as they know he can execute with which to decorate their rehabilitated homes.

SCHOOL OF ART.

Greatly to the delight of patrons also, Mr. Cox, at the request of a large number of people, will make time to conduct classes in art in his studio at the place mentioned in the foregoing. The corner of Bancroft way and Telegraph avenue. This decision of Mr. Cox is all the more to be appreciated because the facilities of art schools, for some time must necessarily be greatly limited especially when efficiency and reputation are expected in the instructor. Mr. Cox intends soon to rebuild his studio in San Francisco so as to keep touch with his older patrons.

TRYING EXPERIENCE.

The experience of Mr. Cox in San Francisco was not confined to the construction of a studio on a liberal stock with chief d'oures the of an active lifetime, but included the operation of an abiding place equally gemmed with the product of his brush, and a hasty and phenomenal method of escaping, with a few lures et penates, from the resistless advance of the flames.

MOVED ON A LAWNMOWER.

His cottage was the last but one to burn on Sacramento street near the corner of Franklin street and Van Ness avenue. Mrs. Cox's sister was a guest at the artist's home at the time, having arrived a few days before the earthquake. Mr. Cox did not think the fire would reach his place and it was only at the last moment, and when quite too late to hire a conveyance to move his treasures, that he saw the flames leap across Van Ness avenue.

He therefore was compelled to press into service the only vehicle available, a lawnmower and with that contrivance, moved all of it was possible for him to save of his goods to Black Point. One may readily imagine the salvage was as meager as the means employed was original and unique. Mr. Cox has that lawnmower in his possession still and it will long be held in memory dear.

LOSS OF THE COX STUDIO.

People who have visited the Cox studio in San Francisco will readily appreciate the loss which the artist has sustained. The walls were hung with portraits of distinguished people and full-sized figures, which really seemed instinct with life. Great canvases, twelve feet in length and nine feet in height, containing hundreds of characters all painted from life.

THE CRUCIFIXION.

One of these great works was the scene at the crucifixion of Christ at the time when darkness enveloped nature, the earth trembled and the dead arose and appeared to many. This canvas represented years of work and at the time of its destruction had received the finishing and most mature treatment of the artist. So lifelike, historically accurate, powerfully drawn were the characters and characteristic of Judea, the surrounding country, that art and biblical students used sit before it for hours making a study of the scene.

ROMAN SLAVE MART.

A companion piece, on the same generous lines was Gregory the Great at the slave mart in Rome where Gregory was attracted by the fair-haired English captives and where he was so much impressed with them. He asked them who they were and the reply was they were Angles, whereupon Gregory remarked that they looked more like angels.

MARVELS IN COLOR.

Among the full-length portraits were two of Mrs. Cox, the pose in each of which is different and so easy, graceful and natural as to be that of per-

ENGINEER IS FOUND DEAD AT THROTTLE

PHILADELPHIA, June 29.—The Colonial express from Boston to Washington on the Pennsylvania railroad, arrived here last night with George Maxwell, the engineer, dead at the throttle. The train left Trenton, N. J., on schedule time. There are no stops between that point and the north Philadelphia station, but it is customary to slacken the speed at Frankford junction, in the northeastern section of the city. When this was not done, James Hackett, the fireman, called to Engineer Maxwell, who was at his post. Receiving no reply, Hackett climbed over to the engineer's side of the cab and found Maxwell dead, his fingers rigid upon the throttle. Maxwell's death was due to heart disease. He was 45 years old.

fection itself. The likeness is perfect and the talent and detail upon it show a master hand. These greatly admired portraits were sought frequently by society ladies who wished to have their own features painted into them, but money could not induce Mr. Cox to part with the figures. Now, however, they are only a memory. Now, that the artist has again begun life anew, they will soon live again and be once more among the attractions of his new studio and the inspiration of his brush. With these hundreds of beautiful frames which in themselves represented a fortune, were sacrificed

PORTRAITURE.

Walter Cox, it may be said, excels in every kind of art, but more especially in portrait work, the most difficult in which to give satisfaction. A portrait which is not a likeness, is valueless to artist or patron. Mr. Cox, however, possesses not only the gift of reproducing features accurately and lifelike upon canvas but also the skill to give the portraiture the finishing touches of art. His portraits were in demand and his list was always full of people awaiting sittings and these were members of exclusive circles, professional men, lay and clerical, not alone in San Francisco, but all over the state and, indeed, in various parts of the country. His were the accepted portraits of Cardinal Gibbons of Baltimore, Cardinal Vaughan of London, Archbishop Riordan and Montgomery of San Francisco, Archbishop Orth of Victoria, several judges and other officials in Canada; Mrs. Arthur Bachman, Mrs. Shea, Mrs. Inez Shorb White, Miss Sarah Collier, Miss Betsy Angus, together with a number of others in various parts of the state.

GENIUS AND INSTRUCTORS.

Mr. Cox comes naturally into the appreciation which this exclusive patronage indicates because in him is deeply-seated the genius for art and this has been developed and perfected by years of experience and, in special manner, by years of study in Paris under the great Constant, Jean Paul Laurens, Bouguereau and others.

Mr. Cox is a native of Brookwood, Herefordshire, England. He is modest, scholarly, genial and gentlemanly and has a faculty of making friends by his personality as well as creating admirers by his brush.

THE STORE of OPPORTUNITY

Oakland has rightly been called the "City of Opportunity," and it deserves the name. There is no other city in the west which offers such grand opportunity for legitimate progress along every line.

No city in the west has greater railroad and shipping opportunities; no city has as great natural advantages designed to lend their aid toward making this a city beautiful.

Oakland is a city where happiness, opportunity and satisfaction can be obtained with moderate effort and at moderate cost. A goodly portion of this opportunity is due to the aggressiveness and civic loyalty of its merchants, who have stood by Oakland and developed it during many long years when her own citizens were seemingly neglectful of their best interests.

And among those who have always fought for Oakland and have always seen to it that the opportunity offered her shoppers was equal if not superior to that of any other city, is the Lace House, the big popular store into which the opportunity-seeking crowds pour daily. Be one of them.

ARE RACING ACROSS SEA

French and German Boats Start on Contest for the Supremacacy.

NEW YORK, June 29.—Properly groomed and "rubbed down," their bunkers stuffed with the most critically selected and hand picked steam coal money can buy, the crack greyhounds of the German and French flags, respectively, started on their trans-Atlantic race yesterday.

The mighty Deutschland, the record holder of the ocean, dropped out from her Hoboken pier into the North River at 9 a. m., on June 29, and a half after her usual time of sailing. La Provence of the French line was unfettered thirty-five minutes later than her scheduled hour for starting, 10 a. m. La Provence was clear of the bar at 12:11, when she slowed up for dropping her pilot and booked up again. At 11 o'clock the Deutschland had passed out through the Gedney channel, clear of the bar, and into deep water. A haze had delayed her somewhat down the bay. Thus the thirty-seven thousand horsepower ship has an advantage at the start of one hour and eleven minutes over the thirty thousand horsepower Frenchman.

While officials of both lines are careful not to make any statement that the vessels are racing, they are keenly interested to see which pulls up on the other side first.

It is said that the crews of both vessels have wagered much money on the result, one story making it that the Providence men had bet $5,000 on the success of their ship.

LAWMAKERS LOCK HORNS

Russian Parliament Disagrees
Over Terms of Law of Assembly.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 29.—The Constitutional Democrats and Radicals locked horns during today's session of the lower house of parliament over the project of the law of assembly drafted by the committee of the Constitutional Democrats. The project retains a number of the features of the provisional law promulgated last winter, such as the prohibition of meetings within a mile of the residence of the emperor and of the parliament building, the requirement of the presence of a police representative and a day's notice of the intention of the meetings, all of which were strongly attacked by the Radicals. The discussion was preliminary to the reference of the project to a committee.

The first number of the organ of the newly formed socialist group in parliament entitled "The Precipice" and containing the party's program, has been confiscated. The program includes supporting parliament. It assumes the powers denied it by the fundamental law, establishes an eight-hour day in favor of workmen and provides for the confiscation of all privately owned land and its distribution gratis to the peasantry.

M., who were ordained priests at the old Mission Santa Barbara on June 23 by the Right Reverend Bishop Conaty, D. D., of Los Angeles, will celebrate their first mass on Sunday at St. Elizabeth's church, Broadway, Fruitvale. Father Julius Glibe will celebrate solemn high mass at 8 a. m. At this mass his little brother and sister, George and Annie, will receive their first communion, and his other sisters and relatives will also receive communion. Father Theophilus Richard, C. F. M., professor of theology in Santa Barbara, will preach. Father Saleius Glibe will celebrate high mass at 10:30 a. m. Rev. Pius Niemmann, O. F. M., in whose charge St. Elizabeth's church is, was to deliver the oration, but he cannot since he has not sufficiently recovered from his recent illness. The Very Reverend Peter Wallischeck, O. F. M., commissary provincial and rector of St. Anthony's college, Santa Barbara, will probably deliver the sermon. Father Julius and Father Saleius were among the first pupils at St. Elizabeth's school, Fruitvale.

er place of security. There is an elaborate system of wireless telegraphy connecting the Palace at Peterhof with the fortresses of Cronstadt, Viborg and Helsingfors and with the warships in the gulf, thus insuring the Emperor against being cut off from the outside world, as he was during the telegraph operators' strike of last fall.

HIS MAJESTY'S OWN.

Since the revelations that disloyalty has invaded even "His Majesty's Own" regiment (the Preobrajensky Regiment of the Guards), it is asserted here that nothing would be surprising.

TREPOFF AT WORK.

General Trepoff, commander of the palace, who is personally charged with protecting the safety of the emperor's person, has redoubled his precautions. The garrison at Peterhof has been strengthened by a guard of Cossacks, and the detachment of Cossacks about the place has been doubled. The servants of the palace, as heretofore, are the emperor's faithful Mamelukes and Tartars, some of whom do not speak the Russian language. The Russian servants are confined for the time being to tried lackeys and valets, but among these the terrorists have frequently boasted that they had spies.

SECRET POLICE.

Newspapers carrying sacks are forbidden to enter the grounds of the old palace, to which the public is admitted, and no one is allowed within the walls surrounding the grounds of the small palace where the imperial family resides, without a permit. Secret police by the hundreds, in civilian clothes, through the parks and streets. The emperor never drives out beyond the grounds of the small palace, and the members of the court are practically prisoners within its walls. The principal amusement is tennis, but all the customary gaiety of court life has vanished.

THAW SAYS HE IS NOT GUILTY

sanity move impossible by his refusal to consider it and by declining to allow alienists to question him.

It will not be claimed that the young man is insane now. Such a plea would mean a sentence to the asylum for criminal insane.

WHITE'S LIFE.

This means a trial, and if the plea of "emotional insanity" is justified Thaw will be a free man. The defense, it also has been announced, plans to bring out the whole story of White's life, of his relations with Evelyn Nesbit before she married Thaw and of his subsequent actions, which the defense claims annoyed Mrs. Thaw and goaded her husband on to the shooting.

District Attorney Jerome, who is on his vacation, left Cape Breton yesterday for New York. The arraignment of Thaw today in the court of special sessions is simply for the purpose of receiving the prisoner's plea of "not guilty," and Mr. Jerome's return, it is expected, will hurry the actual trial. It is suggested today that the district attorney may personally conduct the prosecution.

Mrs. Thaw will be a witness for her husband at the trial. She has declared her willingness to tell all she knows. She fully realizes that in doing so she will subject herself to a searching cross-examination.

CARRIED A PISTOL.

That Thaw bought a revolver to kill White, or that the killing was premeditated will be denied. The defense is prepared to prove that Thaw had been accustomed, for more than two years, to carry a revolver. About two years ago, according to evidence in his possession, he was attacked by thugs while out late one night, and since that time had carried a weapon.

Thaw's action in telephoning Anthony Comstock yesterday aroused much interest. Mr. Comstock in an interview is quoted as saying that he is willing to appear for the defense if called upon, and give evidence as to White's conduct. "About a year and a half ago," said Mr. Comstock, "Thaw came to me and complained about White's actions. After his marriage he came to me many times. He saw me again two weeks before the murder."

HIS MOTIVES PURE.

"As to Thaw's purpose in furnishing me with this evidence against White, I firmly believe it was prompted by the purest motives. I do not mean that Thaw thought White should be murdered, but that he should be taken out of the community by legal process and put in prison. Thaw seemed to have an awful weight upon his heart when he visited me, but I was unable to fathom it, and he never volunteered any information on the subject."

"On the strength of his information and from that received in anonymous letters, which corroborated Thaw's statements, I endeavored to get at the truth with a view to securing a conviction if possible. But when it came to preparing a case against White many difficulties confronted me. I had no substantial evidence to offer in a legal action which would make a conviction certain."

"My ill-success in not bringing White to trial seemed to depress Thaw. As to whether I believe this depression caused Thaw to commit the murder, I do not care to say."

The strain of yesterday's proceedings seriously affected Mrs. Thaw. She had hardly reached her apartments when she fainted and it was necessary to call a physician to revive her.

WITHDRAWS FROM LEAGUE

Lodge of Hermann's Sons Shows
Sympathy With Professor
Albin Putzker.

California lodge No. 2, Order of Hermann's Sons, has withdrawn from the German-American league which, as its name implies, is composed of German organizations which have originated in this country and which are located in California. This action was taken at a meeting held last evening. It is the outgrowth of the discussion as regards the retention of Albin Putzker as professor of German in the University of California.

Something more than a year ago President Wheeler of the University decided that he would much prefer to have Professor Schilling, whom he had brought from the east, assume control of the German department of that institution. He had Schilling installed in the position and, as a consequence, Professor Putzker was assigned to a place of lesser importance in the German department, and at a smaller salary.

Professor Putzker has been connected with the institution for many years and had made many friends; who held that, despite President Wheeler's antagonism, he was in every manner qualified for a satisfactory performance of his duties as instructor in the German language. The question was discussed with a great deal of interest by German organizations in this city and elsewhere, but the most pronounced stand taken was that of local organizations. The German-American league was appealed to for the purpose of taking sides as against President Wheeler in his preference of Professor Schilling, and in favor of Professor Putzker, but declined to do so as a body, although many of the individual members personally were decidedly in favor of the latter. The organization, however, officially endorsed President Wheeler's selection of Professor Schilling for the position vacated by Professor Putzker.

Among the organizations which espoused the cause of Professor Putzker was California lodge of Hermann's Sons of this city, and Oakland Turn Verein. The retirement of California lodge from the German-American league was inspired by dissatisfaction on the part of its members with the action of the league in diametrically opposing its wishes on the German professor question in supporting Professor Schilling as against Professor Putzker. An impression obtains among the Germans of this city that the example of California lodge will be followed by a similar retirement from the league of the Oakland Turn Verein.

Companies Put On Record.

WASHINGTON, June 28.—Representative Kahn of California stated on the floor of the house last night that more than one-half of the insurance companies doing business in San Francisco had signed a compact and had announced that under no circumstances will they pay more than seventy per cent of their losses. Some companies, he said, had repudiated their policies entirely, while thirty-three companies would pay their losses dollar for dollar.

Mr. Kahn said the people of the country ought to know the names of the companies that repudiated their policies and that those who refuse to meet their just obligations, "and I hope," he continued, "when congress reconvenes next winter to place in the Congressional Record the name of every insurance company that refuses to meet its obligations in that city, that the people of the country may know the reliable companies."

As this is its first public entertainment the parlor is sparing no effort to make the event a success socially.

The committee which has the affair in charge is composed of Mesdames C. A. McKelvey, E. Elliott, Mrs. Frank Wehe, Mrs. James Wilson and Misses Louise Jacobson and Nana Davis.

KILLED BY A TRAIN.

THE STAR CHILD

This remarkable story by Oscar Wilde, now running in "Town Talk," has created a big sensation in the literary world. It is one of the masterpieces of the dead poet, and is not to be found in any edition of his works now in print. It was a great find for the San Francisco weekly, "Town Talk," is more than sustaining its reputation for being the newest of magazines. This week's Spectator tells a lot about Theodore Keesey, the saturnaline millionaire who bequeathed a wonderful estate to the Berkeley university. He tells of Harrington's son not at the expense of Governor Farabee and of the feud between the Governor and Justice Henshaw. Why Attorney J. C. Campbell loves Englishmen is one of the interesting bits of news in this week's paper, and "Our Loyal Aristocracy" is the title of a pleasant story.

Effective Work of the Eighth Division of the Railway Postal Service.

The efficiency of the railway mail service of the eighth division, which includes Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Utah, Nevada and California, Arizona, Alaska and Hawaii Territory, was put to the severest kind of a test by the calamity which overtook San Francisco last April. Indeed, no severer trial of discipline, endurance and efficiency could have been introduced. The magnitude of the work and responsibilities resting on the shoulders of Superintendent A. H. Stephens and his subordinates can be best understood when it is stated that at the time of the earthquake thirty-one trains left San Francisco and thirty arrived daily carrying railway postal clerks. On the morning of the earthquake and the outbreak of the great fire which followed it many of the railway mail clerks were in San Francisco. Only three trains departed that day, however, without postal clerks aboard. On the first two days of the fire, namely, on the 18th and 19th of April, all of the mail matter written in San Francisco which could not be carried by the Oakland postoffice was deposited with the railway mail force at the San Francisco wharf and at Oakland pier. It was unusually heavy, but the clerks worked through to the outer terminal on every line leaving the metropolis. The force was subjected to a tremendous strain, for sixty-one of its members were burned out and their share of the work fell on the remainder of the 250 running out of San Francisco. These kept up the runs, however, by working day and night. For nearly a week this was the condition of the service. The reduced force kept everything moving with clockwork precision until the clerks whose homes had been destroyed and whose families had been compelled to seek shelter in the refuge camps in the parks were able to return to their official duties.

Naturally, such evidence of perfect organization and discipline drew a lot of commendatory letters from the postoffice officials at Washington. These manifestations of approval were undoubtedly deserving. The extraordinary test to which these clerks had been subjected proved conclusively that in no branch of the postoffice department, and possibly of the entire government service, can there be found as high an average of intelligence or a more perfectly systematized working force than that which exists in the railway mail service. Every man did his duty, with few exceptions, responding cheerfully to the emergency call on his time and energies. The railway postal clerks have been specially trained to meet emergencies and the demands made on them on the heels of the earthquake and fire proved that the training had been thorough. Superintendent Stephens is justly entitled to credit for the effectiveness with which the extraordinary conditions were met. As soon as it was ascertained that cross-town communication in San Francisco would be broken by the conflagration, he opened offices at the San Francisco wharf, at Oakland pier and at his own residence and promptly arranged his men to meet all of those little emergencies which formed collectively what was perhaps the greatest call made on the railway mail service in all of its history. The work then performed by the eighth division corps established beyond question its superiority, which was before conceded, in the matter of discipline and efficiency, over all of the other divisions of the service. It made an unprecedented record, of which every member in the division may be justly proud.

Two years' experimentation with the oiling of its local roads as a substitute for water sprinkling has convinced the Southern Pacific Company of the value of the process. The use of water rusted the rails rapidly, laid the dust on the roadbed only for a brief time and needed constant renewal to be effective. Sprinkling the roadbed occasionally with crude petroleum has, on the other hand, proved to be effective and comparatively inexpensive. During the dry summer season it binds the surface dressing together and makes the roadway practically dustless. Moreover, the softening of the roadbed by the winter rains is prevented, as the oiled surface sheds the water and keeps the ballast dry and firm.

The Visalia Delta says that town has become a railroad center since the breaking of the Kings river levee and the washing out of the Santa Fe track near Laton. All limited and overland Santa Fe trains now run through that city. "It is an ill wind that blows no one any good."

Speaking of the disclosure made by Dr. Devine at a meeting of the General Relief Committee of San Francisco that three army officers had been appointed to have practical charge of the relief work, the Alameda Argus remarks that this "emphasizes the wonder why the general committee did not appoint army officers in the first place, as a great deal of adverse criticism would have thus been avoided."

San Francisco Street Cleaning Problem.

The San Francisco Board of Public Works is said to be growing restive over the delay of the owners of property in the burned district in clearing off the sidewalks and it threatens to adopt drastic measures to force matters. The adoption of an arbitrary policy to hasten the rehabilitation of the stricken city is, at this time, liable to do more harm than good, by increasing the burdens of sufferers by the fire, and, probably, in many cases, putting what property they have saved in the way of reality in more serious jeopardy than it may be in now by adding to its load of debt. When the insurance companies put on more steam in the adjustment and payment of losses it will doubtless be easier for San Francisco property owners to remove the debris from the sidewalks and from their buried premises. Of course, many are restrained from disturbing any of the debris lest it may result in difficulty with the insurance companies and impair their claims for fire losses. Besides, the facilities for removing debris are as yet circumscribed, and a general cleaning up of the streets and sidewalks cannot at present be carried out. It will doubtless be a point of wisdom on the part of the Board of Works in the transitory city, therefore, to make haste slowly in the adoption of a policy which will increase instead of lessening the present embarrassments of property owners. Many of the latter are fellow townsmen and have large interests at stake in the burned district, and any municipal policy, carried out by the San Francisco authorities unfavorable to their interests promises to do an injury indirectly to this community.

Whatever may be asserted to the contrary, the interests of Oakland and San Francisco are inseparable and must ever be so. We are, therefore, deeply concerned in San Francisco's present condition and in its future welfare and are directly interested in any policy which its government adopts.

Since the fire marvelous changes have been produced in many of the main streets in the business quarters. They are a practical manifestation of the faith and energy of the people who are straining every nerve and muscle and resource to restore the city to its severe losses which it has suffered and revive the prosperity which was so suddenly and seriously interrupted. The duty of the hour is to fortify these efforts, not to weaken them, or to arbitrarily put into operation any policy affecting the city's rehabilitation which will increase existing difficulties and delay instead of facilitating the work of reconstruction. San Francisco's street cleaning problem is a large one and will take a long time to solve. A little official patience at the present time will ultimately prove to be a great virtue.

Raising the fire insurance rates in San Francisco to $6 and $10 per $100, where the rates before the conflagration ranged only from 90 cents to $2.50, is the strongest kind of evidence that the surviving insurance companies mean to squeeze the bulk of their recent losses out of the property-owners as quickly as possible. In the light of this policy, the following comment of the Santa Cruz Surf is just now specially pertinent: "Few seem to realize that California has been for forty years a luscious harvest ground for the insurance companies. Net profits on California insurance last year exceeded six millions of dollars, and in twenty years the insurance companies have received into their treasuries—or otherwise disposed of—nearly seventy millions of profits on California business, after paying all fire losses in that period. Nearly half the claimed insurance at this time, in California, is OUR OWN MONEY, as much as if deposited in the savings banks. The balance is a part of the HAZARD, the basis upon which all insurance business is transacted."

SEES EVIDENCE OF GRAFT.

The "soft snap" and the "main chance" have penetrated into the very heart of San Francisco relief work. The gentlemen who have the supervision of it all deem it patriotic and altogether in harmony with the eternal fitness of things that three men be hired at the princely salary, of $6000 a year each to focus their gigantic intellects upon the work of supervision of the distribution of donations for the relief of the calamity stricken. Of course these princes of wisdom will have little to do other than to think. Secretaries, cashiers, bookkeepers, clerks and messengers will look after the details at salaries larger than they ever before received, as is the case with the "Big Three," neither of whom ever had a salary of half the size they are to be paid, and that, too, from a fund that is to buy bread for the hungry.

Verily the "soft snap" and the "main chance" are wonderful factors in the activities of life, and the range of their intrusion into the concerns of man reaches all the way from the cradle to the grave. But really, now, is there not enough moral sense in San Francisco to put the foot of condemnation down hard on this diversion of charity money from its proper course into the pocketbooks of a few favorites of men in authority? The only reasonable excuse for committing such an unreasonable, cold-blooded act is that the intense heat of the fire baked the gray matter of those who have done this thing until it lost all power of discrimination. It was devoutly hoped that the relief fund would have a clear record in all its winding ways of distribution, but graft seems to be mightier than honest effort. However, it is San Francisco's business, only that the outrage is so monumental that its shadow reaches far and near.—Berkeley Gazette

Upon thy sea thou dost not smile,
Thy heart is rent.

What of the night before the morn?
Then were thine eyes
The envy of the stars that looked
From soul of skies

What of the night before the morn?
On thy soft breast—
A heart-song floating in thy dreams—
Thy children rest.

O, mistress of the great blue sea,
Thy breath of morn
The wild wave of the flame hath stilled,
Thy bosom torn.

Thy trusted earth that pillowed thee
Hath scarred thy brow:
Deep in my heart were tears unwept—
I'm weeping now.

"Look to the sea with me and smile,"
Thou tellest me.

"The mantle of my new morn's pride
The world shall see"

The world shall see thy mantle's pride;
White sails afar,
On ocean's breast, through Golden Gate
Shall see thy star—

Thy star that shone for argonaut,
For pioneer,
Who breathed in thee their spirits' trust
That knew no fear.

MAINE TREASURE TROVE.

The announcement that several barrels of bottled beer and ale had been dumped into the river near the Brewer bridge by a frightened driver early Thursday morning to avoid the liquor deputies was the cause for the assembling of a large multitude on the middle span of the bridge shortly after daylight who looked down with hungry eyes and moist lips at what was hidden beneath the turbulent flood.

Desperate ones laid aside their clothing and began to dive to see what they could find, and before the day was over two barrels of bottled ale had been recovered and gingerly "split" among the gang. They are still at it, and if anything remains in the bottom of the river it will not be for want of arduous and enthusiastic endeavor on the part of several in behalf of thrift and recovery.—Bangor News.

LONDON, June 29.—Most of the arrangements for the public observance of King Edward's birthday were canceled today on account of a severe rainstorm which visited this city early in the morning. Over two inches of rain fell in London in eight hours, constituting a record. Many districts were flooded and people driven out of their houses, the underground railroads were inundated and traffic was stopped. In some of the suburbs of this city the streets were impassable to pedestrians, and the imprisoned occupants of flooded houses were rescued by firemen in boats. The king ordered the cancellation of the ceremony of trooping the colors on the Horse Guards parade, and the abandonment of the reviews of troops at Aldershot and elsewhere.

A great amount of damage was caused by the storm in the agricultural districts.

You know you ought to have a Linen Suit for the Fourth

Everybody else will have one.

They're so cool and so pretty and so reasonable that you really cannot afford to be without one.

But the point, we presume, that bothers you most is where to get one at a reasonable price, that will please you.

There are lots of other good stores in Oakland besides Kahn's, we grant that. And many of these stores sell Linen Suits, we grant that also. But we believe that no other store, either here or in San Francisco, shows such a variety of medium priced Linen Suits.

Our whole effort has been made to select lines of Linen Suits selling from

$5.00 to $15.00 each and to select neat, natty, clever little costumes rather than the more elaborate effects.

And we have been signally successful as our stock will prove.

Consequently, ladies, don't overlook Kahn's at any rate for it is more than likely that you will find here just about what you are looking for.

BERKELEY CHINESE ARE CONVICTED OF GAMBLING

Fourteen of Them Found Guilty by a Jury in Judge Edgar's Court.

BERKELEY, June 29.—After a trial which consumed the greater part of yesterday, the fourteen Chinese arrested for gambling about two weeks ago by Marshal Vollmer and a squad of police, were convicted by a jury in the court of Judge Edgar of maintaining a gambling house. The jury deliberated on the evidence offered by the police department and after being out about an hour pronounced the Chinese guilty. This is the only conviction ever made in Berkeley in a gambling case.

The examination of jurors proved to be exciting as the entire forenoon was taken up and the venire exhausted. All jurors excused said that they would take the word of Chief of Police Vollmer in preference to the concerted testimony of the Chinese. Challenges were exercised in rapid succession as Judge Frick, the leading criminal lawyer retained by the defendants, proposed to do all in his power in choosing the jury right. Attorney Staats appeared in behalf of the people.

BEFORE THE BAR.

The case includes fourteen Chinese who are accused of violating ordinance 421A, restricting the running of gambling resorts within the corporate limits of Berkeley. On the 17th of June Chief of Police Vollmer and a detail of officers made a raid on the Chinese quarters, 2023 Blake street, and the following named were placed under arrest: George Lee, Wong Men, Lee Jim, Lung Sing, Lee Loy, Chin Fook, Joe Him, Chew Wong, Teung, Joe Sen, Lew Jim, Leung Ken, Ah Wan and Lee Tung.

The Chinese were arraigned before Judge Edgar immediately after the arrest and entered a plea of "not guilty." They were allowed to go upon each producing bonds for their appearance at time of trial in the amount of $100.

HOW ARRESTS WERE MADE.

When the raid was made, entrance was effected by battering in the door, and the police took the celestials completely by surprise. They were in the act of running a game of fan-tan, and the $300 on the table was confiscated, together with the paraphernalia. To make assurance doubly sure, the chief detailed two men to the roof, where they peered through the skylight and saw the celestials in the act of playing the game. At the signal given, the door was battered in and the Chinese taken into custody.

In order to expedite matters, opposing counsel stipulated to try the cause with a "spike" jury of nine men whose names are as follows: W. Kenney, N. Nutting, J. M. McDermott, M. M. Heller, Allen Church, J. Service, R. C. Lamuel, W. M. Heron and Charles Hess.

Marshal Vollmer was the chief witness for the prosecution and related his experiences in making the raid on the house. He identified the table, beads, dominoes, chopsticks and cards offered in evidence and gave strong testimony in support of the prosecution.

Sergeant Fryer of the San Francisco police force, an expert on Chinese games, was present and explained the methods of playing fan-tan and pig-wig.

REBATE HAS BEEN DENIED

Wharfinger Sustained in His Charges Against Shippers.

It was unanimously agreed by the wharves and water front committee of the City Council last evening to recommend that the application of the Piper-Aden-Goodall Company for $100 rebate for alleged excessive toll at the city wharf be denied, and that the action of Wharfinger Greer in charging the company $679.60 for May, less $100 rental for the month of June in advance, be sustained.

The Piper-Aden-Goodall Company claimed that the excessive dockage was due to the congestion of freight traffic and declared that the rebate of $100 was due them, in that they were not to blame for the conditions.

It was stated in the petition that, owing to this congestion of traffic, the company was compelled to increase its working force from two to eight men at the city wharf.

The committee, however, after hearing from Wharfinger Greer, decided that his figures were just and recommended that the application be denied.

When the life and water committee met the application of C. B. Smith for a fire hydrant on Taylor street, between Pine and Cedar streets, was referred to Fire Chief Ball with instructions to give it his prompt attention.

An application for fire hydrants at Seventeenth and Wood streets and Eighteenth and Wood streets, was recommended.

The park and boulevard committee requested that the city engineer report before next Monday on the probable cost of repairing the Twelfth street dam, the Council having appropriated $493 for the purpose.

REPORT MADE ON CHIMNEY INSPECTION

Secretary Fawcett of the Board of Public Works reported to the finance committee of the City Council last evening that the receipts from chimney inspections since April 15th had been $4412 and the disbursements $4411.96, leaving a balance of $100.04. The estimated balance for the month he placed at $220.04. Of the expenses $452.14 was incurred before May 31st, when fees were first collected. The report concludes:

"Since June 1st we have laid off four inspectors, two helpers and one clerk."

TUMORS CONQUERED

SERIOUS OPERATIONS AVOIDED.

Unqualified Success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the Case of Mrs. Fannie D. Fox.

One of the greatest triumphs of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the conquering of woman's dread enemy, Tumor.

The growth of a tumor is so slowly that frequently its presence is not suspected until it is far advanced.

So-called "wandering pains" may come from its early stages, or the presence of danger may be made manifest by periodic monthly periods accompanied by unusual pain, from the abdomen through the groin and thighs.

If you have mysterious pains, if there are indications of inflammation or displacement, secure a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound right away and begin its use.

Mrs. Fannie D. Fox, of Lynn, Mass., will give you her advice if you will write her about yourself. She is the daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and for twenty-five years has been advising sick women free of charge.

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I take the liberty to congratulate you on the success I have had with your wonderful medicine. Eighteen months ago my periods stopped. I felt very badly that I submitted to a thorough examination by a physician and was told that I had a tumor and would have to undergo an operation. 'Soon after I read one of your advertisements and decided to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. After taking five bottles as directed the tumor is entirely gone. I have been examined by a physician and he says I have no signs of a tumor now. It has also brought my periods around once more and I am entirely well.'—Fannie D. Fox, 7 Chestnut Street, Bradford, Pa.

The present force consists of eight inspectors, eight helpers and five clerks. We expect to reduce this force by at least one-half day by July 10th, as by that time we will have placarded the entire city."

The report was filed.

Consul Albert W. Swain of Southampton furnishes a summary of a British trade report on the exports of Europe and the United States to South America. It shows a percentage increase in the 1900-1904 period over 1885-1889 of 4.5 per cent for Great Britain and 46.3 per cent for the United States. Complete details of this trade were given in Special Agent Hutchinson's report.

A Texas Wonder.

There's a fill at Denton, Tex., that's twice as big as last year. This wonder is W. L. Hill, who from a weight of 90 pounds has grown to over 180. He says: "I suffered with a terrible cough and doctors gave me up to die of consumption. I was reduced to 30 pounds when I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. Now, after taking twelve bottles, I have more than doubled in weight and am completely cured. Only such cough and cold cures. Guaranteed by Osgood Bros., druggists, corner Seventh and Broadway, near Washington street; see and know. Trial bottle free."

BULLETIN ON COPPER ORES

Berkeley Geologist Gives Information Regarding Nevada Mines.

BERKELEY, June 28.—Andrew C. Lawson, head of the geological department of the University of California, has just published a very valuable bulletin upon "The Copper Deposits of the Robinson Mining District of Nevada."

The Robinson mining district, with the geology of which this paper deals, is but a very limited portion of the Egan range, one of the largest members of the Basin Range system of mountains, traversing eastern Nevada with a general north and south trend.

This bulletin referred to tells of Lawson's observations in the mines. The pamphlet says in part:

"The mineralization of the district which gives it its economic importance is intimately and genetically connected with an irregular intrusion of 'porphyry,' cutting carboniferous rocks and occupying the center of the belt. Ore deposits are found both in this porphyry mass and in the sedimentary rocks which border it. In the porphyry itself are found copper ores in large quantities. In the limestones on the northern flank of the porphyry zone, particularly toward its eastern end, are limited bodies of lead ores carrying some silver; and on the southern flank, also at the eastern end of the belt, occur gold ores in ledges in the sedimentary rocks. The silver lead ores have as yet not been found in sufficiently large bodies to warrant permanent mining operations, although considerable prospecting has been done and some ore has been shipped. The gold ores at Chairman and Saxton mines have attracted the attention of capitalists sufficient for the erection of extensive and costly plants for their reduction, but the attempt to win the gold has been apparently unsuccessful and both plants are now idle. The chief interest in the district now centers in the copper deposits, which give much promise of being mined on a large scale in the near future."

CHIEF LOCALITIES.

"The chief localities in the district where these ores have been developed by mining operations on a notable scale are at the Ruth mine in the eastern part of the belt, at Copper Flat in the middle and in the vicinity of Pilot Knob at the west end."

"The highest member of the carboniferous series is the Ruth limestone, a formation of heavy but distinctly bedded, blue gray limestone, carrying upper carboniferous fossils. This formation is characterized by an abundance of flint or chert nodules, and the fossils are to a large extent replaced by such silica. The chert nodules are often several feet in length, but generally they range in size from about an inch to a foot in length. The color of the chert is much darker than the limestone in which it is imbedded. The rock is, otherwise, free from impurities, weathers to a dull gray color and forms but a scant regolith. There is an abundance of fragments of organisms both in the limestone and in the chert layers. These organisms appear to be chiefly foraminifera. In the chert cavities of the organisms are filled with an aggregate of quartz grains of much larger size than those composing the chert matrix, but the chamber walls are still composed of calcite. Fossils are chiefly confined to the Ruth limestone."

Professor Lawson gives a general resume of the paleozoic and eruptive rocks, rhyolite porphyry dykes, the copper bearing porphyry and results of chemical experiments of the geological mining districts in Nevada.

CLUB ENDORSES NEW CHARTER

ALAMEDA, June 29.—An enthusiastic meeting was held last night in the Wigwam under the auspices of the West End Alameda Improvement association, and the assembly gave a unanimous endorsement to the proposed new charter, which is to be voted on on Wednesday, July 18.

Those who addressed the meeting in favor of the proposed measure were B. C. Brown, F. E. Royal, W. H. Roy, C. C. Boynton, Rev. Frank S. Bush, Dr. George A. Moore and Captain A. Mathison. All were heartily in favor of the adoption of the charter and they discussed the various points.

The club endorsed the resolution to have a campaign committee appointed to work for the passage of the charter, and H. G. Mehrens, F. E. Royal and Dr. H. A. Miller were appointed by President C. R. Smith.

George Renner and George Fulton were appointed to represent the club at the conference to be held next Monday evening in the Wigwam between delegates from the improvement clubs of Berkeley and Alameda, at which the question of consolidation will be considered.

Castle of Harvard played one of the greatest games in the history of the Cambridge University against Brown. He shut them out 1 to 6 without a hit or a base to first, besides making the only two hits and one run scored by the Crimson line.

Rumored That Mrs. Rosenthal Sees No Other Way Out of Scrape.

BERKELEY, June 29.—Mrs. Fanny Rosenthal, the fair Russian whose matrimonial ventures have won her distinction rivaled only by her latest appearance in the role of a defendant at the bar of justice, will be taken before Judge Robert Edgar tomorrow morning to enter her plea to two separate charges of shoplifting. At the time of her arraignment, Tuesday morning, she listened to the charges, but her attorney asked that further time be granted, and the time for pleading was fixed at 10 o'clock Saturday morning.

It is now rumored in the police circles that the woman realizes that there is no other alternative, as she was captured by the officers with the stolen chertals in her possession, will enter a plea of temporary insanity. Kleptomania may be claimed by the defendant, who would rather submit to any charge of mental derangement than be convicted of petty larceny. In such an event she will be examined by alienists and they will decide whether or not there are any indications of mental aberration.

It is the opinion of the police that this is not the first time the accused has indulged in shoplifting. According to her own words she escaped from the jail in San Francisco with "just a handful of clothing." When her trunk, which was found at 2205 Fifth street, West Berkeley, was searched by the officers there was found to be a vast assortment of the finest of lace and fabrics. If she escaped from the city with only a handful, she must have accumulated the goods since her flight from the ruined city, and the Berkeley merchants believe that they have contributed involuntarily towards replenishing her wardrobe.

WILL CONSIDER THE BOND ISSUE

BERKELEY, June 29.—G. B. Ockert, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce committee of forty appointed to consider the needs of the school department, has requested the members to meet with the Ashby Improvement club tonight at the Peralt fire house on Shattuck avenue, near Russell street. The bond question will be the subject discussed.

HOW THE "YELLOW" MAKE STORIES

I interviewed a young woman as she lay in bed one morning about her husband's trying to take away her baby. She said her husband was hanging around, but she had not seen him. She spoke lazily from her tumbling couch. Her mother, who was pulling on her stockings in the next room, abused the husband loudly. She refused her daughter's photograph, but, out of spite, gave me the husband's, and as I pleaded that all babies looked alike, added the baby's.

"The 'rewriter' man touched up the story."

"Mrs. Janzen is today staying indoors in deadly fear of her husband, whom she expects to come at any moment to steal her baby." He "made an attempt to steal the child Sunday, and after being outwitted by the mother, fired several shots at her. (1) One of the bullets just grazed the woman's head."

Group of Famous Savants, Including Jacques Loeb, De Vries, Arhennius, Hilgard and Wickson, Photographed for "The Tribune."

BERKELEY, June 29.—Great men become greater, say the philosophers, when seen from a distance. Nearness breeds familiarity, and it is proverbial that familiarity is followed by something unlike honor. Perhaps that is why the people in Berkeley, or in all this part of the country, may fail to appreciate the fact that there is gathered in their midst at this time an aggregation of native and foreign scientific talent, the like of which probably could not be duplicated at any other single point in America.

Five of the world's greatest savants are grouped in the photo which THE TRIBUNE reproduces on this page today, and hence the picture is unique. The photograph was taken in the botanical gardens on the campus of the University of California, and in the group are several scientists engaged especially for the summer school and some who are of the faculty of the University of California.

THE PERSONNEL

The group includes Hugo De Vries, of Holland, the world's greatest botanist; Dr. Arhennius, the world's greatest chemist; Jacques Loeb, the world's greatest biologist; Professor Hilgard, the world's greatest soil expert; and Professor Wickson, one of the greatest authorities on horticultural problems in the land.

At the extreme right of the picture, dressed in a long-tailed "outaway," leaning on a cane which supports a great bulk, is Arhennius, of Stockholm, a man of massive brain, an atmosphere so notable that they land him easily at the top of European authorities in chemistry, and when that is said, the man's primacy in his field is established.

Next in line, holding in his hands a flower, is Dr. Hugo De Vries, the botanist, the scientist who challenged some of Darwin's dicta, and proved Darwin to be in error in many points. De Vries has no peer as a botanist in all the world. His classes at the summer school are crowded.

Soil expert, Professor Hilgard, the venerable soil expert, stands next to De Vries. Dr. Hilgard has just completed his monumental work entitled "Soils." It is considered the last possible word to be spoken on the subject.

Wearing a straw hat and with hands in his pocket, is Dr. Jacques Loeb, than whom the world knows no more eminent biologist. His investigations into the secret of life have given him unique fame.

At the extreme left of the picture, his derby hat well up on his brow, his white vest accentuating the scrupulous carelessness of his dress, is Dean Wickson, of the Agricultural College of the University of California, renowned for his success in the fields of horticultural research.

The two figures in the rear to the extreme left are Professors Steubenrauch and Osterhout, of the University of California. Dr. Loughridge, a soil expert, is in the rear between Arhennius and De Vries.

Can any university summer school, the country over, make a greater showing of savants than this? Is it any wonder that President Wheeler swells with pride at the list? Well, hardly.

ALAMEDA, June 29.—While at work in the rear yard of his home at 500 Central avenue late yesterday afternoon, Martin Kenny, an old resident of this city, was fatally injured by falling on a spike. He sustained internal injuries from which he passed away two hours later.

Kenny was working on a boat when he fell upon the spike, which was driven for a comparatively great distance into his body. A hemorrhage resulted and the unfortunate man passed away. Dr. E. M. Keys was called but medical aid was of no avail.

Deceased had been in the employ of the Southern Pacific Company for many years as a fireman on its ferry boats. He has lived in the West End for a long time and was a well known citizen.

He leaves a wife and three children. An autopsy and inquest will be held.

ALAMEDA, June 29.—Yesterday morning Building Inspector B. P. Bull put a stop to work on the construction of the portion of the new Morse block at the corner of Bancroft way and Shattuck avenue which will be occupied by the postoffice, as he claims that it is not being constructed according to the requirements of the new building ordinance. The west and north walls of the building, which are half way up, are, according to Bull, four inches short of the required width, which is thirteen inches. Childs & Arlett, contractors, have had charge of the masonry work on this section of the building, being subcontractors under F. E. Armstrong, who is erecting the building.

The inspector has also informed the owner of the building, Mrs. Ellen S. Morse, that a building permit must be secured immediately or he will stop work on the entire structure. Work on the building was started before the new building ordinance was adopted, at which time a permit would have cost but $10. Now the owner will have to pay $25 for the permit, which must be secured immediately or work on the building will not be allowed to continue.

It is alleged that Architects Dickie & Reed, who prepared the plans for the new building, are at fault in failing to comply with the ordinance.

GO TO YOSEMITE ON CAMPING TRIP

BERKELEY, June 29.—Principal Charles Eidenbach, of the McKinley school headed a jolly party of Berkeley people who left yesterday for a camping trip to the Yosemite valley. The party took the train for Chinese Camp, and from there the party will walk into the valley, accompanied by three saddle horses for the benefit of the ladies, should any of them be unable to stand the trip. The party expects to be away about five weeks.

In Professor Eidenbach's party are his wife and son, Mrs. S. N. Wyckoff, Miss Blanche Wyckoff, Miss Ruby Wyckoff, Miss Louise Kidder, Miss Edna Wyckoff, S. N. Wyckoff, and others.

CATHOLICS TO BUILD CHURCH

Congregation of St. Joseph's Will Have Handsome Edifice.

BERKELEY, June 29.—The congregation of St. Joseph's Catholic church of Berkeley is soon to commence the building of a handsome new house of worship. For many months past Rev. Father Morrison, under whose priestship the parish has prospered spiritually and materially, has for many months been working on the plans for the new edifice. The members of the parish have rallied to his support and have pledged the financial aid necessary to carry the undertaking through. Orders had already been given for the construction of the building, and an architect had been selected to draw the plans before the earthquake. The plans were in the office of the San Francisco architect when the fire came and they were destroyed.

Father Morrison was not discouraged, however. The architect was instructed to redraw the designs and this work is now in progress. It is planned to make the new church the most handsome and costly in Berkeley. The present church of St. Joseph is situated on the corner of Addison and California streets.

BERKELEY STUDENT TO BE MISSIONARY

BERKELEY, June 29.—Out from the ranks of the university students has come another recruit for the great army of missionaries now engaged in spreading the truths of the gospel in foreign lands. Charles H. Brubacher, who graduated last term from the college of social sciences at the university, has decided to dedicate his life to the task of carrying the gospel tidings to the people of India. He is to be sent out to the India field by the German Baptist church, of which he is a member.

Brubacher is but 24 years old, but already he has demonstrated rare ability as a teacher of religion, and his church did not hesitate to give him credentials as a missionary when he signified his desire to enter the field of foreign work. He resides now at 2642 Bancroft way, where he is preparing for his trip to the Orient.

"I anticipate that the coming convention will be one of the most successful in the history of the State organization."

TO LECTURE ON BANCROFT LIBRARY

BERKELEY, June 29.—A lecture of more than ordinary interest to students and others about the bay who are interested in western history will be given by Professor Henry Morse Stephens in the library next Monday at 2 o'clock. The lecture will be on the Bancroft Library, which has been brought to the University since the fire in San Francisco. The library contains works of rare value on Western history and specimens collected by Mr. Bancroft, illustrating many important facts of the early history of the coast.

Contrasted Contagious Blood Poison by using a towel used by some infected person and had every symptom of the disease. I tried every remedy I could get but the disease got worse until I feared of my life. I then saw a bottle of S.S.S. and I bought it and used it and I was cured. This was some time ago and I have never seen the slightest sign of the disease since. J. O. Smith, 801 Alameda Ave., St. Louis, Mo.

S. S. S. goes down into the blood and forces out every particle of the poison and makes a complete and lasting cure. CONTAGIOUS BLOOD POISON THE WORST DISEASE IN THE WORLD

Contagious Blood Poison is the worst disease in the world; not only those who contract it suffer, but the awful taint is often transmitted to innocent offspring whose lives are blighted and bodies disfigured because the virus of Contagious Blood Poison has been allowed to remain in the family blood. The first sign of this disease is usually a little pimple or blister, then a red rash breaks out, the mouth and throat ulcerate, the hair comes out, copper colored spots appear on the limbs, back and breast; and as the disease more thoroughly pollutes the blood, sores and ulcers form and if the trouble is not checked the finger nails drop off, and the soft bones of the nose and head are destroyed.

S. S. S. goes down into the blood and forces out every particle of the poison and makes a complete and lasting cure. As soon as the system gets under the influence of the remedy the symptoms begin to pass away, and when the cure is complete the patient is left in perfect health. S. S. S. PURELY VEGETABLE

NOLAN WILL HAVE TRIAL IN COUNTY OF SONOMA

The Accused Teacher Gains a Point
Before the State Board of Education.

BERKELEY, June 29.—Yesterday afternoon, after hearing the evidence in the sensational Nolan case, the state board of education decided to refer the whole matter back to the county board of Sonoma county for trial and findings. The state educators directed that the county board at once take up the matter and give the whole affair a full and impartial hearing. This action was taken after testimony had been heard in secret session and after Principal Nolan had been given permission to state his side of the case. This action is regarded as a victory for Nolan, as he has all along insisted that the trial be held in Sonoma county. He says his friends there know that he is innocent of the base charges brought against him.

ALLEGED IMPROPRIETY.
The arrest of Nolan several months ago in Sonoma caused consternation among the schoolmen and residents of that district. He was directed to appear before the school board of Sonoma. He was temporarily dismissed from the department. The board then decided to refer the matter to the state board of education.

Nervous Debility

DEPLORABLE CONDITION CURED
BY DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS.
A Scranton Woman Tells How She Was Made Well and Strong.

Nervous debility is the common name for what the doctors term neurasthenia. It is characterized by mental depression, fits of the "blues," or melancholy, loss of energy and spirits. The patient's eyes become dull, the pink fades from the cheek, the memory becomes defective so that it is difficult to recall dates and names at will. Some of these symptoms only may be present or all of them. The remedy lies in toning up the nervous system and there is no remedy better adapted for this than Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Mrs. Jane J. Davies, of No. 314 Warren street, Scranton, Pa., says: "Some years ago I became greatly reduced in health and strength and my nervous system became so debilitated that I felt wretched. I could not rest or sleep well at night and woke up as weary and languid in the morning as I was when I went to bed. My head ached in the morning and often there was a pain in my right side which was worst when I sat down. My nerves were on edge all the time, every little noise bothered me and I was generally miserable. Then I decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, as my husband had taken them with good results, and they did wonders for me. Now I have no more pains in my side, no more headaches, I sleep well, and feel strong and able to do my work." Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the best nerve tonic because they convey nourishment to the nerves in the only way that is in accord with the plan of nature—through the blood. These pills cured Mrs. Davies and they can do just as much for every pale, weak, ailing man or woman who is slipping into a hopeless decline. They strike straight at the root of all common diseases caused by poor and impoverished blood such as anaemia, indigestion, biliousness, headaches, backaches, rheumatism, neuralgia, nervousness and even more serious nervous disorders.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50, by Dr. J. C. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

WOMAN LOST ON MOUNTAIN

Spends Night on Summit and Suffers Much From Ex-posure.

LAKE PLACID, N. Y., June 29.—After a search lasting all Wednesday and all yesterday forenoon, Dr. J. D. Merrill, a prominent woman physician of Chicago, was found yesterday by Charles Martin, a local guide, on the summit of Mount Whiteface, where she had passed the night.

In company with Miss J. L. Warner of Boston, with whom she is tramping through the Adirondacks, Dr. Merrill Wednesday left the Lakeside Inn in this village, planning to climb the mountain, go down the other side and visit the village of Wilmington before nightfall. Where the trail divides in two parts half way up the mountain the women became confused, one taking one and one the other branch. Miss Warner became frightened and made her way back to the boat landing.

Searching parties at once set out from the village to locate Dr. Merrill, and it was not until about noon yesterday that she was found on the summit of the mountain, where she had passed the night beneath the shelter of a friendly ledge. The woman was assisted back to the village, suffering from exposure and the terrible strain.

NUMBER OF SEWERS ARE RECOMMENDED

At a meeting of the street committee of the city council last evening it was recommended that Sixty-second street, from Spring to Racine street, be graded, curbed and macadamized.

It was also recommended that property owners be given twenty days' notice to construct a sidewalk on Fifteenth avenue, between East Twelfth and East Fourteenth street.

A resolution of intention to construct a sewer in School street was recommended.

It was recommended that a sewer be constructed in Clay street, from Clay to Washington street.

It was recommended that the superintendent of streets be directed to construct a twenty-two-inch sewer in Dover street, near Allen street, at a cost of $90.

Resolutions to grade, curb and macadamize Howe street, from Market street northerly, and portions of the south half of Forty-ninth street were favorably recommended.

It was recommended that a sewer be placed in Linda avenue, from Piedmont avenue easterly.

A resolution of intention for sewers in Fifty-seventh and Dover streets and a resolution to macadamize Fifty-seventh street, from Dover street to the Bowles & Fitzgerald tract, were favorably recommended.

DREAM OF AN AUTO ACCIDENT REALIZED

CHICAGO, June 29.—An accident that was forecasted in a dream only a few hours before occurred yesterday when Miss Myrtle Mack, 17 years old, was run down and nearly killed by an automobile.

Early yesterday morning Mrs. Mack, mother of the young woman, was awakened by a dream, in which she saw the mangled form of her daughter lying in the roadway, and the automobile by which she had been struck disappearing in the distance.

So worried was she that when her daughter left home she made her promise to be particularly careful in crossing streets. Miss Mack laughed at her mother's fears. A few hours later she was carried from an ambulance into her home, unconscious. She had sustained severe internal injuries.

FIRST TRAIN RIDE AT 70. NEARLY KILLS HER

WILKESBARRE, Pa., June 29.—Mrs. Charles Skinner, 70 years old, of Benton, who took her first ride on a railroad train yesterday, was so frightened that it was feared she would die, and the train was stopped.

DEATH UNDER AUTOMOBILE

Machine Crashes into Car and Owner Is Killed Instantly.

NEW YORK, June 28.—Herman Schnibbe, a wealthy grocer of Brooklyn, invited three friends to accompany him in his automobile to Coney Island and Manhattan Beach last night. The party started from the beach for home shortly after midnight.

Schnibbe was driving the car down Pacific street, Brooklyn, at a good speed. At Treen avenue, where the Summer avenue trolley cars cross Pacific street, a car was rapidly approaching, and the car and machine came together with a crash. The automobile was thrown a dozen feet and overturned. The trolley car left the track.

Schnibbe's guests jumped, but he was pinned beneath the machine and killed. His companions, two of whom had been knocked unconscious, were taken to the hospital.

To Be Exact.
"Of course," said Mrs. Goodart, "when you share a cake with your little brother you always give him the largest half."
"Most assuredly not," replied little Emerson of Boston. "Here being but two halves in a cake there can be no 'largest half.'"—Philadelphia Press.

LITTLE MEN OAKS WIN IN TRAIN FOR BOUT

LOS ANGELES, June 29.—In less than a week two of the best little men in the ring during the decade will meet in the arena of the Pacific Athletic club for the featherweight championship of the world.

At their training quarters an entirely different line of action is being pursued by the men. In fact, no greater contrast has ever been witnessed in training methods. At the Noll camp the object of all the work is to place the little bantam in the ring in the strongest possible shape and ready to go the twenty rounds at top speed if necessary. No sparing whatever is being done—certainly a new departure in getting a fighter in shape for a grueling contest.

DOESN'T NEED SPARRING.

"Well had all the sparring that he needed while training out of Chicago with a theatrical company last month," is the way the two wise heads back of him put it. As Father Jim and Spider Kelly have no superiors in conditioning a man for a hard contest admirers of the bantam champion can rest assured that their favorite is getting the work best suited to this fight, no matter what inexperienced critics may think of the course being pursued.

Attal, on the contrary, is going through the hardest sparring bouts of his life. Young Barry and Kid Dalton, two of the roughest boys in the business, said into Abe as if he were a punching bag every afternoon for six or eight hard rounds, and more rough house tactics are to be seen at Attal's every day than are often witnessed throughout a whole mill where there is real money at stake.

Attal's purpose is evident, even if he did not announce it. He intends to exchange punches for punch with his antagonist and rely on his little on his wonderful footwork to win the fight for him. There will be no running in that fight, and those who have at times accused Abe of keeping too much out of harm's way through his clever footwork have a surprise in store for them the afternoon of July 1.

There was more excitement at Cedar Park yesterday and the fans certainly got the worth of their money in genuine thrills. Best of all, the Athletics were on the long end of the score. It wasn't a very long end, but it was enough to bring home victory.

It was another sensational game and the locals retrieved their loss of the preceding day by walloping the Angels to the tune of 4 to 3.

It was one of those old-time games over which the fans enthuse. After nine innings of closely fought ball the Oaks connected strongly with the leather, slammed out some heavy hits into the green garden and coaxed a winning run over the plate in the last few moments of play.

The baseball enthusiasts in the bleachers went wild with delight. First they shouted, but not being content with the mere vocal expressions of their glee, the fans danced about the seats, slapping each other with heavy sounding whacks on the shoulders, the back, or the head, any old place that happened to be convenient. They had a right to celebrate, for the Oakland aggregation had pulled a victory out of a game that up to the last of the eighth looked like certain defeat.

The Angels followed their plan of the preceding three games and came up strongly in the early part of the game. In the second inning they placed a rally on their side of the sheet and in the next frame showed two of their white-clad warriors over the rubber plate. At the close of their portion of the frame they had the Oaks in hand, with a lead of three tallies. But with the old war horse spirit the locals came up to bat in the second portion of the same frame and scored a single tally, which left it 3 to 1.

Things dozed along then until the eighth, when the Oaklanders slammed out three-base hits, not to mention several minor drives, and shoved two men over the plate, using the score.

Van Halten started things with a vim for the Oaks in the last frame of the ninth inning by slugging a hard three-base connection into the corner of the fence of the right garden. Smith drove a long fly into Ellis' hands and Kruger repeated the stunt. However, Van man-

FIELD AND TRACK STARS TO ENTER HOLIDAY MEET

Channing Hall Is Scheduled to Jump.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 29.—There will be athletes in profusion at the big Fourth of July meet to be held at Golden Gate park stadium under the auspices of the celebration committee and the management of the Olympic club.

Entries have poured into the committee and all the events have filled well. Most of the best athletes on the coast will take part and the spectators will see many exciting contests, as there are evenly matched men in every event.

In the 100-yard dash, which heads the list, Dan Kelly of the Multnomah Athletic club of Portland, Or., will compete. This young sprinter electrified the athletic world by running the hundred in 9.3-5 seconds last week at Spokane, and if this record is officially accepted he will have the honor of having covered the distance in faster time than any man ever made it, except Arthur Duffy, the sprinter who was expelled from the amateur ranks and all his records wiped out when he confessed that he had been receiving money while competing as an amateur. Opposed to Kelly will be Olie Snediger, as fine a short distance runner as the University of California has ever produced, and Gerhard of the Olympic club, who was only beaten a yard by Parsons, the champion of the United States. Copy of Stanford and Dave Sullivan of the police department are two sprinters whose full powers have not yet been shown.

HALL ENTERED.

Snediger and Kelly will meet again in the broad jump, at which both are record holders. Kelly holds the northwestern record with 23 feet 4 inches, while Snediger is the coast record holder with 23 feet 7 inches. Hussey and Topham, cleared over 6 feet on many occasions. Powell is also expected to win the hurdle.

Channing Hall, the University of California high jumper, who has jumped over 6 feet 2 inches, will compete against "Billy" Powell, an athlete who has cleared over 6 feet on many occasions. Powell is also expected to win the hurdle.

RAIN PREVENTS SEATTLE GAME.

SEATTLE, June 29.—The Seattle-San Francisco baseball game was postponed on account of rain.

CHICAGO CUBS POPULAR BUNCH.

CHICAGO, June 29.—If the Chicago National League wins the pennant this year, and this seems to be the opinion of a great part of the fans that have watched the clubs play, the team would be the most popular aggregation of champions the old league has had for many years.

In every city the fans are pulling hard for Chicago to take the pennant away from New York. Even in Gotham there are hundreds of enthusiasts that would be glad to see Chicago get the honor.

Frank Chance and his men play as clean and gentlemanly a game as any team has put up, and ever since Frank Seale started the present combination the Cubs have been known far and wide for their good deportment on the ball field.

The Giants are just the reverse, many say, besides being umpire batters. The humiliation heaped on McGraw's men last week, when the Chicago team piled up nineteen runs and shut out the champions, was pleasant news for the whole league.

Hans Wagner of Pittsburgh has come to his own. He now leads the National League with a mark of 356, five points better than Schulte, and seven better than the ambitious Steinfield. Chance is rated with 324 and Schekard, another Cub, has a 308 mark. John Kling gets 301.

Commenting on these heavy hitters, it is interesting to note that Wagner has 15 stolen bases, Schulte 16, Steinfield 16, Chance 18, Schekard 14.

JEFFRIES HAS A DOUBLE IN VENTURA

Who was the big fellow who stampeded Ventura by his likeness to Jim Jeffries?

The town fell for it and the gentleman who shoved the buck was regaled by hundreds of Ventura admirers.

He ate and he drank and he smoked two-bit cigars and now the victims are trying to square themselves by saying that they knew all along that it wasn't Jeff. Here is an extract from a Ventura paper:

"If Jim Jeffries was not in town yesterday he ought to have been. The evening publication published his arrival in Ventura, and many of our citizens feasted and honored the supposed favorite of the prize ring with kingly generosity. The name of our distinguished guest, who was a sort of a cross between a newspaper colonel and an advertising fakir, was more like Goldsborough than Jeffries. If Belmont registered him at the Annapolis, as Big Jim, he refused to admit that those who stopped business to do honor to the scottish slugger are all anxious to declare that they called the bluff early in the game, but much good money was spent nevertheless, and the cash receipts for conversational water were greatly swelled.

"But Jeffries wasn't in town yesterday for a fact."

Now who bunked the innocent citizens of Ventura?

Girls Will Have a Chance to Run.

As he has a record of 15.2-5 seconds for the event.

In the hammer throw Plaw, the former star of the University of California, will endeavor to break the world's record, which is held by Finnsgaard of New York at 173 feet 6 inches. Plaw has thrown the hammer 182 feet in practice and will try to equal his practice trials on Wednesday.

Another famous athlete who will compete is Norman Dale, whose record of 13 feet 1-13 inches for the pole vault stood as the world's best until two weeks ago, when Leroy Samson of Chicago excelled it by four inches.

The handicap events have drawn forth big entry lists and the high school races will be well contested as these youthful athletes are always striving to the last step.

There will be two relay races. The one between Dick and Lowell is bound to be close and exciting, as these schools are closely rivals on the cinder path and each possesses numerous good runners. The Olympic club relay against the soldiers from the Presidio should be won by the club men, but the soldiers are confident and promise a surprise.

RACES FOR GIRLS.

The committee decided yesterday to add two races for girls to the program and fixed on forty yards as the distance which the members of the fair sex will be asked to run. One race will be for girls under 15 years of age and the other for those between 15 and 18.

A 100-yard straightaway has been laid out on the course and the committee is trying to arrange that all the races can finish with this straightaway for the stretch.

Frank O'Kane, who will be marshal of the day, and Al Coney of the athletic committee called on Lieutenant Taylor at the Presidio yesterday and the officer promised that he would have a squad of his men on hand to give an exhibition. The best of the act would be a novelty, but did not disclose its nature.

PACKAGE FOR PRESIDENT O'NEIL

Here is what they are handing to Tip O'Neil, erstwhile resident of Oakland and now president of the Western league, in reference to the row in the league there.

A special to the Omaha Bee from Sioux City says:

"The guy with the nerve for me." Norris O'Neil, president of the Western league, so expressed himself in regard to ball players in an interview here in attempting to excuse the methods of the Des Moines ball players.

"I'd rather see a ball game end in a prize fight than in a love feast," also said the mild-mannered president of the Western along the same lines. "But give me the man with the nerve," he continued. "I'm for rowdism. I like it. A ball player isn't supposed to be decent. He is paid to win games, and he has to be a rowdy to get there. Let me die before I see a ball game tamed down to a fifteen-minute or a croquet match."

"Managers ought to be rowdies, they're getting paid for it. They ought to swear at their men. This makes the men work and win games. This brings the fickle and pleased smile to the faces of the managers. Let decent people go hang as long as the team's winning games and drawing crowds. If you'd quit your howling about rowdism in Sioux City and emulate some of Des Moines dirty work you'd have a winning team. Bull-doze the umpire. You've got to do it to get a square deal."

"Umpires don't know any too much about the game and they've got to be coaxed along. Call them names and make them scare. I like to see players give me a most important organ in the body. Umpires aren't the most competent nor the most decent men in the business. But I want to say that I'm no nurse for umpires. I don't believe in feeding them on a bottle. They can go right after the game and get as drunk as the players and stay drunk till the next day when the game begins. I don't care. But I like to see them sober during the progress of a game."

SEATTLE, June 29.—Charles Shields taken his pen in his good left mitt to drop his old record of 15.2-5 seconds for the event. After saying that he would actually go to work on the record he would come back to Seattle, Charles continues as follows:

"Tim Flood, Spider Baum and I will all be with you next year. We want to get back to Portland and show them how we can play ball. Tim is playing a great game at second base just now, and I never did better in my life. I am pitching, and playing in right field when I am not in the box. You should see me make the flies off the fence. Baum is a red-hot favorite. Just remember that we will all come back, and hold a place for us. We'll be there all right, don't fear."

Why this feeling of resentment against Seattle, Charles? You were certainly treated right here, and whenever you pitched a good game there were Seattle fans ready to hail you as a second Waddell. Of course, you got into trouble last summer, but then even a sub man has no right to beat up one of our respectable bluecoats, and you had only yourself to blame. ## OUTLAWS TO WELDSTEIN IS RETURN TO COAST? GAINING STILL

SEATTLE, June 29.—Charles Shields taken his pen in his good left mitt to drop his old record of 15.2-5 seconds for the event. After saying that he would actually go to work on the record he would come back to Seattle, Charles continues as follows:

There were, of course, several changes in the standing of the various contestants. While Weldstein is now four laps ahead of his nearest opponent, Charles Clark, and generally conceded to be the probable winner, Clark's friends maintain that he will be able to overcome the lead during the next two nights of racing. The contest closes Saturday night.

The standing to date is as follows: Weldstein, 39 miles 5 laps; C. Clark, 38 miles 1 lap; A. Clark, 38 miles 4 laps; Special, 35 miles 9 laps; Raphael, 25 miles 5 laps.

BERKLEY, June 29.—State tennis champion, Drummond MacGavin, a member of the class of 1904 of the University of California, was in town today. MacGavin is making limestone tests on the holdings of a large contracting firm of San Francisco, in Monterey county, and came up to the university for testing apparatus.

He graduated from the college of mining and will soon leave to take up engineering in Mexico. After taking his diploma, MacGavin made a tour of the Transvaal mines.

He was one of the most prominent athletes while at college, having won the tennis tournament from Stanford for four successive years. He is a member of the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity, and of the Skull and Keys and Golden Bear honor societies.
